

References to CAMAC report Insider trading

- J Overland, 'Corporate liability for insider trading: How does a company have the necessary 'mens rea'?' (2010) 24 Australian Journal of Corporate Law 266
- D Pompilio, 'The choice between LIFO, FIFO and mark-to-market accounting in the estimation of securities damages' (2010) 28 Company and Securities Law Journal 243
- G North, 'The Australian company disclosure framework: Piecemeal or integrated?' (2010) Company and Securities Law Journal 28 C&SLJ 259
- G North, 'A re-examination of the Manne efficiency theory and the insider trading and company disclosure efficiency rationales' (2011) 25 Australian Journal of Corporate Law 209
- Editorial, (2010) 28 Company and Securities Law Journal 81
- G North, 'The Australian insider trading regime: Workable or hopelessly complex?' (2009) 27 Company and Securities Law Journal 310
- G North, 'The insider trading "generally available" and "materiality" carve-outs: Are they achieving their aims?' (2009) 27 Company and Securities Law Journal 234
- J Austin, 'A rapid response to questionable trading: Moving towards better enforcement of Australia's securities laws' (2009) 27 Company and Securities Law Journal 203
- M Duffy, 'Insider trading: Addressing the continuing problems of proof' (2009) 23 Australian Journal of Corporate Law 149
- G North, 'Closed and private company briefings: Justifiable or unfair?' (2008) 26 Company and Securities Law Journal 501
- J Butler, 'Are we there yet? The journey of the insider trading provisions' (2008) 26 Company and Securities Law Journal 460